Subject: ROHR TREND ALERT!!

Dear Alert Service Subscriber,
This is a critical short-term view:

All remains the same as Monday's ROHR TREND ALERT!! As noted last Thursday morning, Super Mario (Draghi) has confirmed that inflation is weak for reasons beyond the sheer drop in Crude Oil prices (which he still allowed was enough in itself to affect near term inflation readings.) This is important, as it indicates the ECB is worried about the dreaded 'second round effects' that would cause the ECB to pursue more extensive Quantitative Easing (QE.)

And anticipation of that further accommodation was a fillip for the US equities and even energy markets that recovered so markedly from the lows after lunch (US time) on Wednesday. All of that bullish anticipation was confirmed at the ECB press conference Thursday morning. That caused the MARCH S&P 500 FUTURE to sustain strength well above the key 1,860-65 area.

Here's the critical consideration today: MARCH S&P 500 FUTURE reacting back down from the 1,900 area was no surprise. Yet, as noted on Monday the next dip to 1,865-60 is very likely to hold for many good technical as well as psychological reasons. That is due to it being a Negated weekly up channel DOWN Break, and also a short term down channel 1,959 UP Break from Thursday morning, as well as Friday's gap higher from Thursday's 1,861.

And as recent trading has amply demonstrated (including Monday), there is not much between 1,900 area and 1,865-60.

While we still believe it is a bear market, it can now react back up to higher resistances as long as it holds 1,865-60. Those remain in the classical areas into interim 1,900 (already tested), 1,925-32 and 1,958-60 areas, with the more major resistances back up at 1,970-75 and even possibly the 2,010-20 areas.
