Subject: Follow-Up ROHR TREND ALERT & TYPO Correction!!

Dear Alert Service Subscriber,
This is a critical short-term view:

Here's the critical consideration today: As important is its ability to recover back above the major 1,865-60 area (and its Tolerance at 1,850.) However, at least so far it has failed to get above more telling short-term trend channel resistance in the low-mid 1,880s this morning (which remains in that area through late today.)

It is instead hangin around its Friday, February 5th 1,875 Close that is also a DOWN Break and key Fibonacci retracement level on this rally. Whether it can exceed that low-mid 1,880s (misstated as 1,800s this morning) resistance or weakens back below 1,875 will be the key indication early this week.

Follow-Up: Now out above low-mid 1,880s the next resistances are 1,895-1,902 and back up into the 1,925-32 range. That said, 1,875 remains key lower support.
