Subject: ROHR ALERT!! Much the Same

Dear Subscribers,

Things are progressing as expected on the softening of US equities while the global govies keep their bids overall. That said, there is much to watch for the remainder of the week, especially Friday's Asian and US economic releases.

Yet Tuesday's 'Smarter Older Brother' ALERT!! observation on the old financial market saying, "The govies are the US equities smarter older brother" seems to be holding true (and we suggest a read if you have not done so by now.)

The past two morning's slightly weaker than expected US inflation indications have brought lower yield expectations, yet with that not assisting the US equities in the way that was apparent on last week's 'monster' recovery rally. This is all consistent with the previously noted dovish central bank indications that are wholly consistent with Tuesday morning's OECD Composite Leading Indicators (<http://bit.ly/2XEG0Wc> our marked-up version of CLI) continued downbeat view.

As such, not much of a surprise that US equities which can be heavily influenced by short term central bank shifts are also still subject to overall global weakness signaled by both the govies trends (see Tuesday's ALERT!! for key chart links) and all of the recent OECD global economic weakness projections. That the latter is driven in part by uncertainty ('Accelerated Uncertaintitis' reviewed last week Monday), it is not helped by the Trump administration's ad hoc tariffs threats.

Another Courtesy Repeat of Monday's critical consideration

It is obvious that the front month S&P 500 future mid-March surge above the 2,825-14 resistance opened the door to more strength. As June S&P 500 future pushed above a weekly DOWN Closing Price Reversal from 2,830-36, 2,825-14 and 2,800 along with weekly MA-41 at 2,775 became important support.

2,900-10 area resistance from September was overrun back in late April. That led to the retest of September's 2,947 front month future all-time high into May 1st. Even in the wake of the initial early-May 'Trump dump' on the China tariffs comments, it was only back around that 2,910-00 support's 2,890 Tolerance.

However, once that was violated, it was reasonable to anticipate a test of lower supports at previously violated 2,865 resistance, 2,836-30 and 2,825-14 all the way to the 2,800 'big penny'. A round of friendly Trump US-China comments squeezed the bears back up to that 2,890 violated Tolerance into mid-May, but no better.

And even after the recent weakness back near the 2,722 March trading low at the beginning of last week (<http://bit.ly/2XBJWab>), anticipation the Mexican tariffs threat might be avoided sent the US equities into a sharp rally. Lower key support noted above in the low 2,800 area with the 2,775 weekly MA-41 Tolerance is now reinstated as the lower support, with resistance into 2,900-10 range once again.
